GALLAUDET
UNIVERSITY WEEK
A CELEBRATION OF LEARNING

Jerry C. Lee
President

Once again I am pleased to extend a warm welcome to everyone at this annual Homecoming for MSSD. I'm sure I speak for all of the faculty and staff on Kendall Green and the Northwest Campus in wishing each of you a wonderful and exciting time.

The Florida School for the Deaf traditionally fields a powerful and competitive football team and we look forward to this continued rivalry between F.S.D.B. and MSSD. I know the game will be clean and hard-fought throughout each quarter.

Do enjoy the give-and-take of the various Homecoming activities, and incidentally, try to find some time to join us in celebrating Gallaudet's becoming a university.

Welcome to Gallaudet University and to the Model Secondary School for the Deaf during this historic week of celebration in honor of Gallaudet's new status. The Homecoming game between the MSSD Eagles and the Florida School for the Deaf Dragons is only one exciting event in a week of special programs and activities. We hope you will remain and participate in other events.

Today's game brings two strong and friendly rivals back to face each other after an absence of several years. The last time the two teams met they were fighting for the national deaf prep championship. Who knows? Today's result could have equally important significance. We expect both teams will go all out in good, clean style. Regardless of the winner, deaf prep football is still very much alive and well.

Another Homecoming Weekend has arrived and what better way to celebrate it than with an exciting game against the Florida School for the Deaf. This is also a time for us to meet old friends, make new friends, and show how proud we are of our school.

Welcome to all parents, alumni and other visitors. Enjoy your weekend and cheer loudly for the Fighting Eagles!

Homecoming Day at MSSD responds positively toward our student development philosophy. It addresses our concept of an inviting school environment. It represents an all-covering process of inviting students to see themselves as able, valuable, and self-directed individuals.

Gathered here for this special get-together are caring folks from a diverse background — students, parents, advocates, motivators, shapers, researchers, managers, consultants and you name them. On an informal yet penetrating basis, they invite students to become all that is in them to be. They see and communicate to students the positive traits and potentials that they may not see in themselves in a formal school setting. They share with them the secrets of their achievements. Such invitations bid students to grow and to utilize their potential to the fullest.

Thank you very much for coming. We hope that you enjoy being with us as much as we appreciate your impact on our MSSD students.

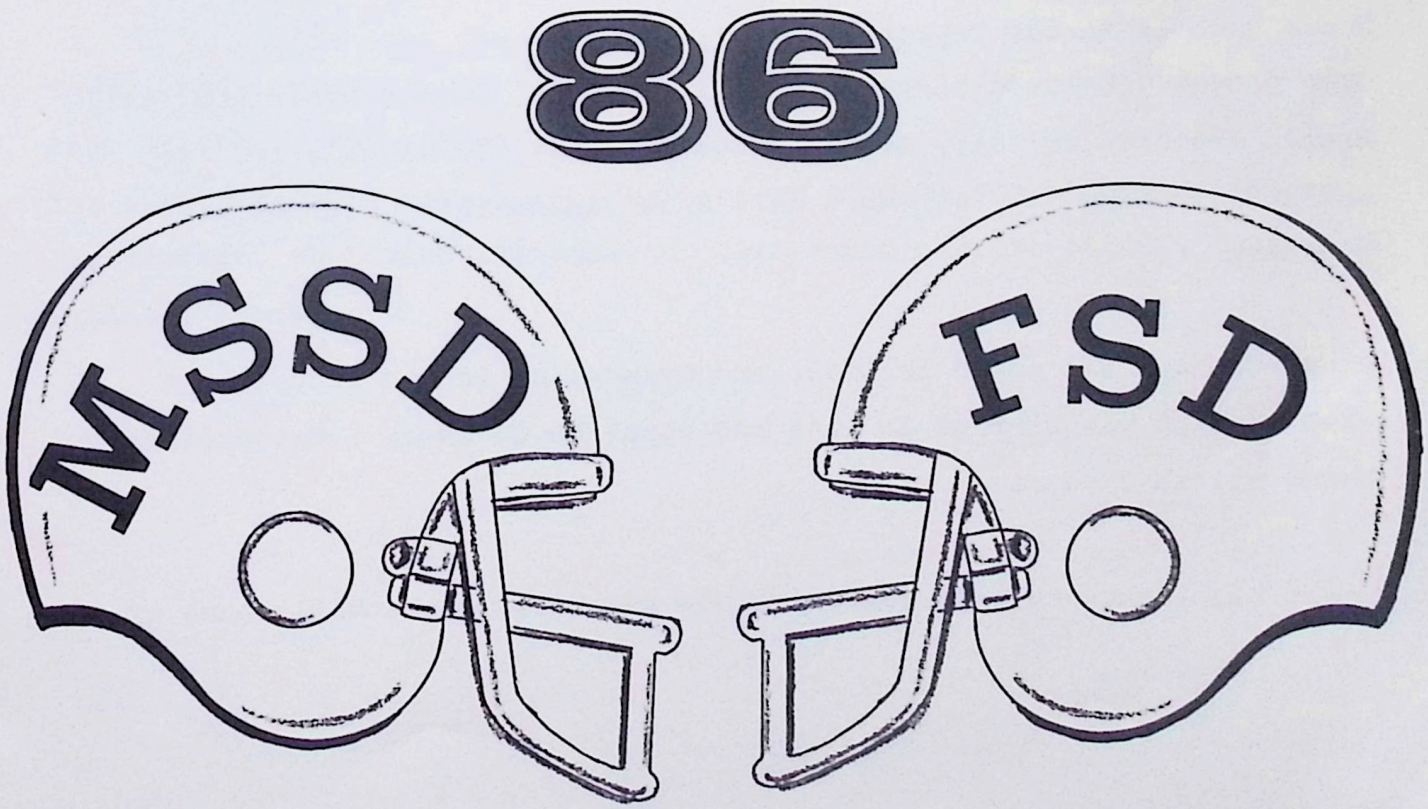
Frank R. Turk
Dean of Student Life

Homecoming '86

....."Homecoming '86 will be the biggest and best ever at MSSD! We are very pleased to have the Florida School for the Deaf as our guests this year. The Dragons of FSD bring with them a tradition of great football and spirit. FSD hosted the Eagles of MSSD in 1980 at the North-South Bowl played in front of 3,000 fans at Miami, Florida. We aim to show FSD the same hospitality MSSD received. Big Crowd! Big Fun! Big Weekend! Prior to the big game, our Soccer, Cross Country, Volleyball and JV Football teams will be defending Eagle pride in their "Homecoming '86" contests.

"Homecoming '86" will also be saluting Gallaudet College as they become Gallaudet University. Thus, "Homecoming '86" and "University Week" join efforts for a tremendous week that will include campus festivities, a 5K race on Saturday morning, Eagle and Bison football and of course, the homecoming dances. We feel confident that this will be an event that will be a lasting memory for all!

Hats off to MSSD's Student Body Government and Close-Up groups for their time and effort in making "Homecoming '86" the smashing success it will be.



16 years and growing...

..... The 1986-87 school year will mark the 17th anniversary of the Model Secondary School for the Deaf which includes 16 years of interscholastic competition. Growth within the program has been evident through these years. In order to find the beginning one would have to look back to 1970. MSSD introduced Boy's Basketball as their first sport. Bob Bergan coached Eagles by the name of Kim Porter (CO '74) and Jerry Owens (CO '73). Girl's Basketball followed in 1972 when Terry Baird coached Eagle greats such as Cindy Fell (CO '80) and Caroline Newsome (CO '77). Track and Tennis were added in 1973 and Soccer in '74.

When MSSD expanded in 1977, a tremendous athletic facility was included at the new campus and gave birth to Football, Volleyball, Swimming, Softball and Baseball. New programs called for new pioneers.

Names such as Marcus Taylor (CO '78), Peter Downey (CO '80), Glen George (CO '79), Connie Marshall (CO '80), Felice Pyser (CO '82), Brenda Redmond (CO '84), Kidane Habte (CO '80), Jesse Wade (CO '80) and Ron Symansky (CO '81) were well known among this group of new pioneers.

Cross Country was added in 1982, and Gymnastics in the latest as a club concept was started in 1985 and hopes to go on as interscholastic basis within 2 years.

Great highlights over 16 years include the Girls Basketball teams of 1977-82 who won six straight Eastern Schools for Deaf Athletic Association titles under Coach Terry Baird..... Football teams who won four National Deaf Prep Championships ('79, '80, '81, '84) under Coach Bob Westermann. Recent highlights include Boys Basketball with 55 wins in five years including back to back Eastern Deaf School Athletic Association titles in '85 and '86 under Coach Tim Frelich.... and a Volleyball team single season record of 41-1 in '85 that included 4 tournament crowns including the Eastern Deaf School title under Coach Camy Lange.

MSSD has also had their share of international exposure through the World Games for the Deaf. Eagle Olympians include basketball players, Jimmy Newsome (CO '77) and Felice Pyser (CO '82)..... Wrestlers, Jack Barron, Bobby Reimer (CO '86), Todd Silvestri (CO '82) Jeff White (CO '86), Ricky Haywood (CO '82), Barry Barron ..... Swimmer, Lori Manson (CO '77).

Today, Model Secondary boasts the largest athletic program of any deaf high school in the United States with 20 interscholastic programs. The Eagles have membership in the Eastern Schools for the Deaf Athletic Association, the Tri-State Athletic Conference and the Potomac Valley Athletic Conference.

Academically Speaking...

.....The Model Secondary School for the Deaf is a tuition free high school for hearing impaired students which is located on the campus of Gallaudet College in Washington, DC. MSSD was created by Congress in 1966 as an innovative high school program. We conduct research, serve as an educational laboratory where new curriculum materials and teaching techniques are developed and tested, and disseminate/share results and products with other programs for hearing impaired students nationwide.

In our early years, MSSD experimented and tested educational approaches. Now, well into our second decade, we have matured and, we think, hit our stride. We still embrace the innovative spirit of earlier days, but with a sensibility appropriate for the time.

MSSD offers some 60 courses in these four essential subject areas, plus almost 70 more that let you learn how to sew, cook, write and sign in Spanish, act on the stage, sculpt a face, paint a picture, build a table, print a booklet or drive a car.

In the adult world, there are no objective tests. Successful people must be able to think, to reason out solutions. Teaching deaf students how to use their own brainpower is the very core of MSSD's curriculum. Thinking skills are taught in every classroom.

Thinking skills are put to use, too, as students learn the fundamentals and higher levels of math, English, science, social studies and a rich selection of electives.

You can study geometry and algebra, or learn to decipher the checkbook calculations of consumers. That's math at MSSD.

Explore Shakespeare, dissect a newspaper and get hooked on reading about current events or create your own fable for English.

Find out how your body changes a hamburger into energy, put to use that mysterious periodic table of the elements or begin to understand how humans fit into the scheme of nature for science.

Developing a Model...

..... The Office of Student Development helps to provide a variety of educational after school activities. Most student development activities are scheduled on Tuesday and Thursday evenings at 7:00 pm. Programs include lecture series, rap sessions, fairs and outside activities. Anyone can fill out a form requesting assistance for developing an educational program.

All on campus activities are coordinated through a yearly Master Calendar in the office of Student Development. Activities from the yearly calendar are printed and distributed to each student at the beginning of each month. Students can use these calendars to plan their schedules.

The Student Development Team oversee the Peer Advisor Program (PA), the Alternate Learning Arrangement Program (ALA), the Eagle Service Group (ESG), the Commuter Student Program and the HV/Training Apartment Program.

* The PA program develops leadership skills in a select group of students who in turn help the MSSD community.
* The ALA and ESG are developmental programs for students who violate the MSSD code of conduct.
* The Commuter Student Program is for local students.
* The HV/Training Apartment Program is a live-in program to teach students independent living skills.

Satellite libraries are located in residence halls A and B. The libraries are open daily after 3:00 pm; Sunday through Thursdays. Tutors are located in the libraries to help students with their studies.

The Student Development programs at the MSSD, proactively developed and implemented, focus primarily on the developmental needs of the highly heterogeneous student population. These programs, in effect, represent translation of student development theory into practice utilizing simultaneously the basic tenets of the four domains of learning -- cognitive, affective, perceptual, and psychomoter. In a majority of the cases, these programs which take place all over the campus, especially in the residence halls, are conducted by students themselves with professional assistance from behind only when absolutely necessary. They are afforded the opportunity to learn program development and implementation. On a gradual basis, they learn:

* basis psychology;
* human relations;
* developmental theory;
* peer counseling; and
* student characteristics.
